T/Sgt.
CHARLES HARBER

T/Sgt Charles Harber
8th Army Air Force - 306 Bomb Group
352 Service Squadron - Thurleigh, England
Oct 1942 - Dec 1945

Charlie Harber was born on July 19, 1920 in a small town near Abilene, Texas. He enlisted in the US Army Air Corps in February 1942, only two months after the attack on Pearl harbor. After aircraft mechanic training in Lubbock, Texas and Tucson, Arizona, he took a train to Fort Dix, New Jersey. After seven days on a ship crossing the North Atlantic, he arrived at the 306th Bomb Group at Thurleigh, England which was about 50 miles North of London. There he was an aircraft mechanic on the Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress until December 1945.

While in England he met Irene, a 22 year old British girl, at a dance. They were married on October 21, 1944 and she became an official "War Bride". After the war Charlie and Irene moved to the Bay Area of California and he worked for United Airlines for 30 years.

The Harbers raised four boys and one girl. Irene passed away in 1990 and Charlie married his present wife, Jeanie. They moved to Templeton in 2009 and Charlie has been a very valuable member of the museum's restoration crew.
